

Export timber from the Russian Federation in 2015

V. A. Koryakin – Russian Research Institute for silviculture and mechanization of forestry, the Head of the Center of Strategic Planning and Forecasting, Candidate of economic sciences, Pushkino, Moscow region, Russian Federation, koryakin_va@mail.ru

A. V. Golotovskaya – Russian Research Institute for silviculture and mechanization of forestry, the Researcher of the Center of Strategic Planning and Forecasting, Pushkino, Moscow region, Russian Federation, agolotovskaya@yandex.ru

Keywords: export volume, export value, export price, dynamics, raw timber, lumber treated, plywood, pulp

The article presents the results of a study of the customs statistics on the export of timber from the Russian Federation in 2015 for each timber carried out a thorough and detailed analysis, including a study of the dynamics of the volume and value of exports, as well as changes in export prices in the period from 2006 to 2015.

In the article the author describes in detail the dynamics of the export orientation of the treated timber, raw timber, plywood and pulp. Text of the article contains a valid conclusions about the close connection volume and value of exports with the export price established in the market. Each timber is provided a forecast of changes in the situation with the export from the Russian Federation in 2016.

The author concludes that in 2015 the situation with the export of timber from the Russian Federation had a positive trend. Alarming trend towards a decrease in export prices for wood products deep processing of wood. A further reduction of export prices in 2016 could lead to a reduction in export volumes and timber production. At the same time the greatest extent will be reduced production of sawn wood production of the plywood and pulp will decrease to a lesser extent.